- the applicant must have completed the 1-Year Foundation Course offered by the C.G. Jung Institute, Copenhagen.

In order to apply, the following must be submitted:

- a written application with a short autobiography and a description of the personal motivation for applying. (2 – 5 pages)
- the approved essay from the 1-Year Foundation Course. Applicants who have completed foundation courses elsewhere must provide evidence of their learning outcomes, subject to agreement with the Jung Institute's Training Committee.
- Curriculum Vita
- Documentation of the number of sessions of personal analysis written by the Analyst. (30 hours at the time of application and 50 hours at the start of the course).

Deadline for Applications

Deadline for application to the training as Jungian Psychotherapist is September 1st the year before the training starts.

Admission Procedure for the 4-Year Psychotherapeutic Training

Like for the Foundation Course the applicant must, once the application is approved by the Training Committee, have an interview with two members of the Training Committee. In special cases the applicant may be asked for an extra interview.

The purpose is to assess whether the applicant has some knowledge and qualitative understanding of the principles of psychotherapy and whether the applicant will be suited for the work as a Jungian Psychotherapist. The committee members pass on their recommendation of the applicant to the entire Training Committee, which then decides on whether the applicant is to be admitted. This decision is final.

Application Fees

There is no application fee for the Foundation Course, but for the subsequent training the fees are: Administrative fee (currently DKK 2.000) Fee for the interview (currently DKK 2.000).

If an application is turned down the applicant will be offered a free session with one of the members of the Training Committee.
